Palo Alto University Transfer Requirements

Transfer students must successfully complete 90 quarter (60 semester) transferable units with a minimum 2.0 GPA, to be considered for admission to Palo Alto University's (PAU) undergraduate programs. Only courses with a grade of C or better will be accepted. Admission into any of PAU's undergraduate programs also requires the completion of a General Psychology course, or comparable introductory level psychology course.

Admissions into the undergraduate programs requires the completion of the California State University General Education/Breadth (CSU GE Breadth) with grades of C or better in each course. Only College Level courses with grades of C or higher are transferrable.
