Introduction

Purpose
An effective program review supports continuous quality improvement to enhance student learning outcomes and, ultimately, increase student achievement rates. Program review aims to be a sustainable process that reviews, discusses, and analyzes current practices. The purpose is to encourage program reflection, and to ensure that program planning is related to goals at the institutional and course levels.

Process
Foothill College student services programs are reviewed annually, with an in-depth review occurring on a three-year cycle. Faculty and staff in departments who contribute to these programs will participate in program review. Deans provide feedback upon completion of the template and will forward the program review on to the next stage of the process, including prioritization at the Vice Presidential level, and at OPC and PaRC.

Annual program review addresses five core areas, with a final section for administrator comments and their reflections about the next steps:
1. Data and trend analysis
2. Outcomes assessment
3. Program goals and rationale
4. Program resources and support
5. Program strengths/opportunities for improvement
6. Administrator’s comments/reflection/next steps
7. Vice President’s comments

2012-2013 Submission Deadline:
• Program review documents are due to Director/Dean by December 14 for completion of Section 6.
• Director/Dean completes section 6 and forwards documents to Vice President for completion of Section 7 by January 4, 2013.
• Vice President completes section 7 and returns documents to program review team by January 18, 2013.
• Program review documents are due to the Office of Instruction by January 25, 2013.

Foothill College Program Review Cycle:

1.2 Using the data provided above, include a short narrative analysis of the following indicators. Please attach supporting studies or data to the final program review submitted to your Dean.

1. Students served (How was this tracked? What is the trend?):
   The Student Activities program has to a varying degree, impacted every student on campus. It is the Activities program that was initially responsible for the installation of campus-wide printing options, a service used by the vast majority of on-campus students. Another example of the impact of student activities is the ride-sharing program that is available to all card-carrying members of the student body, known collectively as the Associated Students of Foothill College (ASFC).

   Tracking for our program is problematic as many of the students served are invisible – they participate in events and activities where tracking is unrealistic (free events, food give-aways, entertainment open to all).

   Some data is tracked however. That includes:
   a) The number of students who have received student body membership cards (Owl Cards) – 2011-12: 4,309. July 1 – November 12, 2012: 2,279.
   c) The number of ASFC member users of Zimride, the ASFC sponsored ride-sharing service 2011-2012: 1,885. July 1, 2012 – December 1, 2012: 2,317 (this includes roll-over users from 2011-2012)
   d) In 2011-2012 Student Accounts Office has issued checks in support of student programs and activities totaling $1,040,138.61
   e) For fiscal year 2011-2012 the Student Accounts Office dealt with the financial needs of 35 active clubs, 68 active trust accounts and 110 Associated Student accounts

2. Demographics analysis (Is the ethnic breakdown of students you serve proportional to the general college ethnic distribution?)
   We do not require any demographic information for participation.
3. Please describe services offered off campus and how these services are assessed and measured.
   The Activities Program generally does not offer services off campus. However, at Middlefield Campus students can obtain their Owl Cards and movie tickets. Some events are also supported at MC.

4. Staffing structure (Does the staffing structure meet the program or department’s needs? If yes, please explain. If not, consider the following prompts in framing your answer.)
   i. Which aspects of the work are key to the institution’s mission?
   ii. Has the staff increased, decreased or remained the same to meet those changes?
   iii. How has technology affected the workload in your office?
   iv. Does the workload have significant peaks and valleys during the year? If so, describe.
   v. Do you anticipate the workload will increase, decrease or remain constant in the upcoming one to three years? Is this a temporary situation?
   vi. What steps can be taken to improve your program or department’s organizational efficiency within its current budget?
   vii. What strategies have been used to improve the delivery of support services within the program or department?

Staffing for the Activities Program has undergone a recent reduction. The student leadership voted to discontinue funding for the Intramural Activities Coordinator position, and as a result that individual was laid off. The result has been the closure of the Intramural Activities Room and a discontinuance of that aspect of the activities program. We are still in the process of assessing the impact but have heard from students that the reduction resulted in a number of unintended consequences such as the disbandment of the Brother-to-Brother and Sister-to-Sister programs. This has had a direct impact on the number of at-risk African American and Latino students served by our program.

We are unable to ascertain how the reduction in “outlet activities” and support programs such as the Intramural Program and Brother-to-Brother impact retention but suspect that there is a negative correlation.

5. General budget analysis by category of expenditures.
   a. Use table below to list expenditure categories and budgeted amounts for the past three years (add categories if needed, or attach spreadsheet)

b. Comment on your expenditures for the past three years.

By far the largest expenditure category for the Activities Program is staffing. We operate on a very limited budget but have the great fortune that much of what we need and do is paid for by student government funds.

   a. Please discuss current outcomes or initiatives related to this core mission.

A recent focus of our Activities Program is an attempt to achieve CSU Transfer status and a transcript-able certificate for our Leadership program. The courses have undergone the approval process at both division and campus curriculum committees and are now being submitted to the State. Virtually every university application asks students what co-curricular activities they have undertaken as well as information about their civic engagement. By formalizing their involvement in our program they will have documented participation as well as measurable outcomes.

Here are the program goals and objectives:
The goal of this certificate is to provide students with a basic comprehension of what makes a successful leader who can effectively serve their community. Students who earn this certificate will have gained the core skills and values needed for development of leadership and community service skills, preparation for civic responsibility, exploration of diverse cultures, and/or participation in building communities.

This certificate provides students the core skills and values needed for development of leadership and communication skills, preparation for civic responsibility, exploration of diverse cultures, and participation in building communities. The courses offer training and experiences in planning, policy development and implementation, decision-making, goal and objective development, leadership theory and styles, organizational development, cultural programming, time management, problem solving and conflict resolution, budget development, team building, group dynamics, event planning, student rights and responsibilities, governance alternatives, parliamentary procedures, and community service.

8. Workforce/Career Technical Education Programs (if applicable). For more information about the Core Mission of Workforce, see the Workforce Workgroup website: http://foothill.edu/president/workforce.php
   a. Please discuss current outcomes or initiatives related to this core mission.

9. Student Equity: Foothill-De Anza Community College District Board policy and California state guidelines require that each California community college submit a report on the college’s progress in achieving equity in five specific areas: access, course completion, ESSL and basic skills completion, degree and certificate completion, and transfer. For the latest
To better inform the Student Equity efforts at Foothill College, please comment on any current outcomes or initiatives related to increasing outreach, retention and student success of underrepresented students in your program. The Student Activities Program is the sponsor of each of Foothill College’s Heritage Month programs. Every effort is made to engage as many students of diverse backgrounds as possible in the process of planning, staging and evaluating the effectiveness of all activities. The Heritage Month series has worked with the President’s Office to coordinate author visits appropriate for each sponsored month when possible.

10. Innovation: Please comment on any innovative initiatives within your program, this could include areas regarding sustainability, stewardship of resources, collaboration, grants and/or curriculum.

The Activities Program has shown great innovation by supporting financially, physically and politically, a significant number of campus commitments. Examples include:

a) Zimride – the ride-sharing program that helps reduce carbon emissions by removing cars from the road. Zimride estimates that Foothill rides have been responsible for these statistics:

- Gallons of Gas Saved: 18,059
- Pounds of CO2 Emissions Saved: 350,346
- Grams of Nitrogen Oxides (NOx) Emissions Saved: 247,752
- Pounds of Carbon Monoxide (CO) Emissions Saved: 5,065
- Grams of Particulate Matter (PM) Emissions Saved: 100,390
- Grams of Sulfur Dioxide (SO2) Emissions Saved: 32,695

b) The upcoming campus-wide election is focusing on bringing EcoPass – the Santa Clara County transportation pass, to our students. This would enable students to avail themselves of County Transit for a very reduced rate, thus reducing further the number of drivers on the roads daily.

c) Financial support for innovative book-renting services to assist students with limited resources.

d) A financial commitment by the ASFC student government to extend library hours beyond those paid for by the campus.

e) ASFC support for Emergency Loans to Owl Card holders needing assistance.
f) The recent effort to have leadership courses become a transcript-able certificate program

g) The ASFC commitment of $50,000 in support of Measure E

h) Support for free access to legal counsel for ASFC Owl Card members

2.3 Service Area Student Learning Outcomes: Please provide observations and reflections below.

2.3.a What findings can be gathered from the SA-SLOs assessments?
An end-of-quarter survey in the Leadership courses showed that 100% of the students feel that participation in the Leadership Program has enabled them to participate more fully in their community. The same survey found that 100% of the students who participated in the Leadership Program in the fall quarter feel that their participation has increased their communication and leadership skills.

The budget development process taught us that even greater attention to training students to understand budgets and the implications of their decisions on programs and personnel is needed. Students still participate reluctantly in many of the budget conversations, leaving a very limited number of students to do most of the speaking and ultimately decision-making when it comes to the allocation of resources.

2.3.b Does any of the data suggest that revisions might be necessary in order for students to successfully achieve the SA-SLOs?
Indeed, the data suggests that training is absolutely necessary for student leaders. Many come to Foothill having never held an elected position, let alone one in a U.S. college setting. In addition to finding some way to “require” training, we need a better way to gather baseline data on what students know about legal processes, budget analysis and more. With that information we would be better able to customize training sessions for student leaders.

2.3.c Do the SA-SLOs reflect the knowledge, skills and abilities students need from those services in order to succeed?
As part of this process the Student Activities team is coming to the realization that we need to look more carefully at what data we want to collect for what purpose. The program has run for many years on anecdotal information and while the feedback we have received is vastly positive, it does little to document who we are serving, to what extent and whether we are addressing the “right” goals.

2.3.d How has assessment of SA-SLOs led to improvement in student success at the institution?
The budget development process is far more transparent, more information is available as to the exact nature of all expenditures. This has enabled student leaders to see more clearly where their money is going and use that information to inform their budgeting decisions for the following fiscal year.

Section 5: Program Strengths/Opportunities for Improvement

5.1 Use the matrix provided below and reflect on the program relative to students’ needs, briefly analyze the program’s strengths and weaknesses and identify opportunities and challenges to the program. Consider external and internal factors, such as demographic, economic, educational, and societal trends. Some considerations may include current and future demand for the program, similar programs at other comparable institutions, and potential auxiliary funding.

<td>Strengths</td>
<td>The student activities program provides students an opportunity to learn about leadership and civic engagement in a “safe” environment. The student leaders have enjoyed a fairly stable amount of funding that comes from Owl Card sales. This in-turn has enabled them to undertake a number of ambitious projects.</td>
<td>Foothill student leaders are highly regarded at transfer institutions.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Weaknesses</td>
<td>The formally “required” leadership courses were vulnerable to the will of currently elected officers. Activities and events staged by the students/program are difficult to evaluate, making them subject to unsubstantiated opinion.</td>
<td>“External” in the case of the activities program can be much of the campus. In times of limited resources, programs without hard data are particularly vulnerable.</td>

<tr>
<td>Threats</td>

5.2 Address the concerns or recommendations that were made in prior program review cycles.

5.3 What statements of concern have been raised in the course of conducting the program review by faculty, administrators, students, or by any member of the program review team regarding overall program viability?
We have some major concerns about upcoming District changes to printing and identification card systems. We want to make certain that the students who initiated the identification/print card system are appropriately represented in all conversations. Thus far major changes are being contemplated and yet no students have been invited to participate in the conversations.

The recent loss of staffing for the intramural program made us very aware of the vulnerability of such programs. It also raised significant concerns about the manner in which some positions have been funded.

5.4 After reviewing the data, what strengths or positive trends would you like to highlight about your program?

We are aggressively seeking approval for a certificate in leadership. If we reach this milestone we will be the first in the State to achieve this goal.

Our efforts to make our budget process more transparent have brought many students into the conversations about effective spending. These are life skills that so many students do not learn in other environments.

Section 6: Feedback and Follow Up

This section is for the Director and/or Dean to provide feedback.

6.1 Strengths and successes of the program as evidenced by the data and analysis:
The student activities program and all its related events are tremendous marketing efforts that benefit the entire college. Our students frequently serve as unofficial ombudsmen for the campus, giving tours, meeting with visitors and serving on committees.

The Heritage Month series organized by the activities program brings an impressive array of talent to the campus, helping to raise cultural awareness campus-wide.

The students have become increasingly knowledgeable regarding their ability to impact programs and activities on campus via strategic funding. This growing knowledge is leading to more campus-wide involvement and data-driven decision-making.

6.2 Areas of concern, if any:
I have significant concerns about our lack of hard data but also realize that measuring events that have been staged purely for enjoyment is impractical.

6.3 Recommendations for improvement:
The Student Activities personnel need to take more ownership of the program review process.

6.4 Recommended next steps:
_X__ Proceed as planned on program review schedule
Section 7: Feedback and Follow Up

This section is for the Vice President to provide feedback.

6.1 Strengths and successes of the program as evidenced by the data and analysis:
Student Affairs and Activities are doing a commendable job working holistically with the student leaders making certain that they have appropriate training and understanding of their roles and the impact of their decisions. The Dean’s direct involvement and guidance in this overall process has and will continue to be critical to success.

6.2 Areas of concern, if any:
There needs to be department-wide participation in the annual program review process. The expectation for next year is that all faculty and staff contribute to the Program Review.

6.3 Recommendations for improvement:
Continue efforts to determine methods to gather data when possible.

6.4 Recommended next steps:
___ X ___ Proceed as planned on program review schedule
___ Further review/Out of cycle in-depth review

Upon completion of section 7, the Program Review should be returned to department faculty and staff for review, then submitted to Instruction and Institutional Research for public posting.
