Update on Professional Development on ACRL Framework

Mary and Laura completed the “Frame Focus” of the 23 Things. Micaela attended a CCL workshop titled, “Engaging with the ACRL Framework.” Micaela also created a LibGuide on the Framework.

GE Survey

The survey was completed and sent out. Only 11 surveys were submitted. Micaela will work on compiling the data.

Library 10

Continuing to offer Library 10 was a goal from our last comprehensive program review. Library 10 has continually been offered. However despite our best marketing efforts the class has failed to make due to low enrollment. Next quarter Laura will teach the class if it makes.

Another goal of Library 10 was to revise it with an Equity lens. Micaela attended an Equity institute at USC, however due to the class not making there hasn’t been a chance to put this into practice. When teaching the class for FYE, Laura practiced culturally relevant teaching in order to make the class engaging.

The class has been and will be continued to be taught with open education resources. Laura will fill out the form to make sure this is reflected in the class schedule.

Adapting ACRL Framework

For now we will research what other California Community College Libraries have done surrounding the frameworks. An idea is to have a survey sent on relevant ListServes to find out how others are transitioning from the standards to framework.

Micaela will work on revising the language in the current course outline to reflect the frameworks. Mary will inquire about the process of officially changing the language.

Note

Currently in the Foothill Course Catalog the Information Competency requirement is missing. Although it is in the GE application and the GE handbook. Mary will follow up with Ben Armerding and Paul Starer about this discrepancy.
