* The Black History Month Semana Library Art Exhibit features two exciting series this year. First, Eye of the Lens: Black Bay Area Photographe, William J. Horstman, DDS, Executive Director of the San Francisco African American Historical and Cultural Society Museum, curator. This photographic journey showcases outstanding African American Bay Area photographers. It is on loan to Football College from the San Francisco African American Historical and Cultural Society Museum. Seventeen artists are featured in this multi-media exhibition covering themes with both black and white and colored photographs. Artists such as Ansel Adams, Tracey Barlow, Roger Burke, Tracey Collins, Duane M. Corbitt, Jim Dennis, Klimara Dixon, Jonathan Eubanks, Dolores Gray, Idris Hassan, David Johnson, Michael Johnson, Keba Armando Kante, Sefolgo Loe, Sefola Hign Nassimuddin, Joeranna Bellaudou-Samuel, Opal Palmer, Patricia Patterson, Tasin Sabir and Clarence Towers demonstrated an uncanny ability to capture the essence of the world we live in through the eye of the camera lens. Additionally, this year's exhibition includes paintings by Robert O. Johnson, who is a fine artist working in realism using charcoal, and featuring portraits and landscapes. His gallery is located in San Jose.

* Hours: Monday–Thursday, 8 a.m.–9 p.m.; Friday, 8 a.m.–4 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m.–1:30 p.m.
