DESCRIPTION: All students with a passion for photography, and who have taken at least one class in photography during 2011-12 academic year, are encouraged to participate in The Mike Ivanitsky Award for Excellence in Photography competition. The award will be granted each year to one student whose portfolio of work in photography is deemed to be an outstanding expression of a personal vision presented with superior technical competence. The winner will be featured in an exhibition on campus set for May 2012. The committee may also choose other portfolios for honorable mention and that work will also be included in the exhibition.

ELIGIBILITY: This is open to any current Foothill student enrolled in Spring 2012 who submits a portfolio and has taken at least one photography class at Foothill in the 2011-2012 school year.

SELECTION: The $400 award will be granted to the portfolio chosen by a selection committee of students and community members. The winning portfolio will be exhibited in the Photography Department Gallery.
