

DIVERSITY IN TECH

A TECHCORE PROGRAM

How do issues of race and racism, gender and sexism, and social justice show up in the tech world? Join us in this workshop series as we invite guests from outside Foothill to engage with us in discussion about these and related issues.

Using Tech for Social Justice with Jonathan Garcia from Hack the Hood

Learn about the ways technology has been used to both perpetuate racism and oppression as well as a tool for social change.

Hack the Hood empowers underresourced youth of color with knowledge, skills, and relationships needed to succeed in tech careers: <https://www.hackthehood.org/>
