Discussion Details

1. Review/approve minutes from January meeting

- PDC members unanimously approved minutes from the previous meeting

2. Debrief Winter PD Day

- Carolyn shared that only one participant return feedback via the post-event survey from the Winter PD day on Friday January 26, 2018. Carolyn also mentioned that the three-hour workshop on service learning began with about 16 participants and after about two-hours, some of the participants left to join the workshop on creating your own videos.
- Judy suggested that if we want to have a follow up session to give our campus community to the Maker Space Introduction from Winter PD, we might contact Lisa Delapo to help coordinate the details.
- Heather Garcia and Paula Schales indicated that they streamed the Video Workshop that they lead during Winter PD Day. In the future, Heather suggests that this streaming habit is a nice option for people who are off-site. Paula offered to look back through the video recording of the last streaming session, edit this video, and put some of this material into their online, self-paced course “Create Your Own Videos.”

3. Spring PD planning

- Our PD committee decided that Spring PD day should be on Friday April 27, 2018
- Possible themes for this PD day include:
 - ✧ Stereotype threat in the workplace – Hyland, Holcroft confirmed: We spoke about having a conversation about how to design our campus spaces to counter Stereotype threat
 - ✧ Invite SEW to possibly present during the Spring PD day.

- ✧ Accessibility Workshop suggested from Paula and Heather
- ✧ Suggestions from Karen:
 - What are the benefits to improving transparency to Staff?
 - How not to be the loudest person in the room?
 - Ray Chan, Patty Chan's husband, offered to do a workshop based on his theatre workgroup (see attachment). Carolyn reported on an email she received about Ray Chan. This workshop would be $3000.00 for 3 hours. Carolyn mentioned that if we were to do this, we would want to make sure this would be highly attended. The PDC members tabled this workshop for a possible Opening Day 2018 Workshop
 - How to participate in your division's program review
 - Name pronunciation workshop
 - How to use Outlook for desktop?
 - Excel applications and why taking a class in this would help?
 - How to get free textbooks: David Byer, a library technicians at DeAnza, did this at district opening day and it was well attended. Karen offered to request an outline for this talk from David and ask for a description of this presentation.
 - Maker Space for Classified Staff
 - Police Department from Santa Monica College up here to do a review of the actions they took (all the way up to reopening) after their unfortunate mass shooting. I heard them at a Leadership Institute Conference a few years ago and they were outstanding
